hospitality of a neutral country as such until they are ready to return home.

JAPANESE ALLOWED TO RETURN HOME.

A similar case arose at Chefoo during Japan's attack on Port Arthur. A number of Japanese, whose ships were sunk at Port Arthur, were brought to the Chinese port and the Russian consul asked that they be interned. They finally were allowed, however, to return to Japan.

The losses through the striking of the British cruisers while heavy, are infinitesimal compared with those on the battlefields. It was reported to-day from Holland that 50,000 German wounded had passed through Liege, and it is known that losses on both sides are heavy.

Another batch of German prisoners arrived in England to-day. They were taken to Canterbury where, since Friday, 1,500, including some Imperial Guardsmen, have been brought in.

The Austrian losses are even heavier than those of the Germans, and the allies. Up to September 14, according to Russian papers, the Russians have captured seven Austrian platoons, 636 guns, 11 machine guns and 4,000 prisoners including 522 officers.

The New Castle Coal Exchange announces that owing to the inability of the German coal owners to execute the contract for supplying the Portuguese Railways, the contract has reverted to a British colliery.

FIGHTING INCESSANT ON WESTERN WING OF LINE.

PARIS, September 23 (6:06 P. M.)—General Joffre, commander in chief of the French army, is devoting much attention to the western wing of the battle line, where the fighting has been incessant night and day. The allies sought to break off the battle of the Aisne, having pushed back the Germans a distance of nearly eleven miles, forcing them to seek a further defensive position on the plateau and in the rough country, which however, offers excellent opportunities for entrenchments.

The headquarters staff has been able to make a long movement forward towards the north. The town of Soissons has been subjected to a furious German bombardment for ninety days. The cannonade starts each day at dawn and continues until 8 o'clock in the morning. It then ceases and begins again at 4 o'clock, continuing until 7 in the evening. The cathedral and other buildings have been destroyed.

The German artillery is posted north-east of the town while the French guns occupy an emplacement to the south-east. There appears no necessity for the shells to fall on the town itself, as the French troops are stationed a considerable distance from it.

Noyon also is suffering from German gun fire, but the cathedral has escaped.

Today's advance of the allied troops ended in some fighting, in which the artillery played a large part. The combat had lasted for twenty-four hours, but eventually the Germans yielded ground after losing heavily. The allies also suffered severely.

One of the killed to-day was General Dupuis, commander of the Sixty-seventh Infantry Brigade.

Two American and British correspondents agreed at Rheims on Monday for visiting the site which may have been released through the intervention of the American ambassador, Myron T. Herrick. The military governor of Paris announced to-day, however, that any one using a temporary pass for leaving Paris to penetrate the fighting zone would be subject without exception to a severe penalty.

VENICE, September 23 (1:40 P. M.)—Nine cases of Asiatic cholera have been discovered among wounded soldiers in Hungary, according to an official announcement by the Hungarian Minister of the Interior. The announcement has excited great apprehension among the dual monarchy.

It is learned here that the first suspected case of cholera in Hungary was that of a wounded soldier brought September 15 to Belice Csaba from the eastern battlefield. The bacteriological examination clearly showed Asiatic cholera.

Since then eight other cases have been discovered also among the wounded returned from Galicia.

There is now here, therefore, the progress of the fighting against the Russians and Serbians beyond the bare official statement that there are no new developments in the eastern theatre of the war.
